Senate Passes Two Bills Carrying Appropriations Aggregating $225,000.

TWO SESSIONS ARE HELD

V. P. I. Bill and the Farmville Normal School Measure Passed-Bills Offered.

The Senate put in a good day's work, sitting for four hours and a half and sitting for four hours and a half and working industriously. The Virginia Polytechnic Institute bill, appropriating $165. too for the enlargement and improvement of that institution, was passed without amendment, as reported, all amendments being overwhelmicely voted down. The Senate bill appropriating $55,000 for the culargement of the Farmville Normal School, and increasing the annuity theoretic from $25,000 to $30,000, was also passed after brief discussion and a strong plea for the bill by Senator Mann. The city annexation bill was made a special order for next Wednesday as was the Sale redistricting bill.

The House devoted the day to the debate on the Torreas system bill, but without concluding it adjourned until today. The fate of the measured is uncertain with the chances rather against it. This week the Senate has passed three bills, appropriating in the aggregate $155. cst. including the Capitol rebuilding bill and the increase in annuity to the Farmville Normal School. Another bill asting for a $55,000 appropriation was made a special order.

of its order and passed. Eight new bills were introduced and referred to committees. Treir titles are printed elsewhere. Mr. McIlwaine, from the Committee for Courts of Justice, reported to the Senaic a number of House and Senate bills.

JUDGE PHLEGAR CONCLUDES.
At 12:30 P. M. the special order was called for and Senator Phlegar wits recognized to resume his speech for the Virginia Polytechnic Institute bill. He spoke for half an hour, elaborating his arguments for the appropriation. The speaker graphically portrayed the needs of the school, and reviewed the work heing done graphically portrayed the needs of the school, and reviewed the work being done by the institute in such a manner as to impress the Senate. He closed with an earnest and forceful appeal for the appropriation of the entire sum recommended by the Finance Committee.

Senator Keczell, patron of the amendment to reduce the appropriation to $115-1000, closed the debate, the quest'on being on the amendment. Mr. Keczell begin on the amendment, Mr. Keczell begin on the amendment, Mr. Keczell begin of FERED AND REFERRED.

These bills were introduced and re-that a special purpose had been 8.9 served by a part of a former appropria-tor, which would not have to be met agein. A colloquy ensued as to the cor-rectness of this claim, in which both gen-tlemen contended they were correct. Mr. Keezell contended that after a close and careful personal inspection of the institute the necessary improvements could in his the necessary improvements could, in his $165,000, as provided for in the committee

FOR THE FEMALE NORMAL.

On motion of Mr. Mann, of Nottoway, the Senate bill appropriating $55,000 for the enlargement and improvement of the State Normal School for Women at Farmyille was taken up out of its order. Mr. Mann made a forceful plea for the adoption of the recommendation of the Finance Committee making the $55,000 and increasing the annuity to the school from $25,000 to $30,600. He spoke at some length in advocacy of the improvement, commending other institutions, but impressing the needs of the only State institution for the education of women teachers. Mr. Mann quoted figures to show the number of trained teachers that had been sent out fully equipped from this school, and who were now teaching thousands of children of the State. The fund asked was for the creetion of an additional dornifory, laying a granolithic walk and covering the same, so that the pupils would be protected from the weather. The need of the improvements asked was clearly portrayed. In concluding his plea for the school Mr. Mann paid an elequent tribute to the women of Virginia in war and in peace, and appealed to Virginia manhood to give them the little they asked in the only State institution for women, and one which would enable them to leave their impress on the hearts and minds of the youth of the State. He closed by a plea to the senators to yote down amendment and adopt the committee recommendation.

THE MOUNT VERNON BILL.

THE MOUNT VERNON BILL.

The only debate of the ression ensued over the proposition to engross Senate Bill 165, in relation to repealing a joint resolution transferring to, the Mount Vernoh Association a claim of the State against the United States. Mr. Macben, of Alexandria, sought to have the bill recommitted, contending that it was unfair that this association should be deprived of its rights without a hearing Mr. Machen spoke earnestly for recommitted.

Mr. Machen spoke earnestly for recommittal.

Mr. Sale and Mr. Barksdale took issue with him or the proposition, and Mr. Sale stated that the claim was transferred to the association sixteen years ago under certain specific conditions, not one of which had been compiled with by the association. He thought the association had forfeited all claim by its failure to comply with the law, not a word having been heard from it in the sixteen years, though y-arly reports are required. He explained that the State now had a chance to secure the money, amounting to $120,000, with interest for many years, which would more than double the amount of the claim. Mr. Barksdale took the same view, and secred the association, poking fur at Alexandria in his infinitable way.

The Senate refused to recommit the bill, and finally passed it by. Mr. Machen will endeavor to secure a continuace of the transfer, there being now a prespect of securing the innercy.

The Senate.

The Senate again held two sessions, sitting from noon until 2 P. M. and again from 3:30 until 6 P. M. Lieutenant Governor Willard presided during almost the entire session.

For the first time this week the session was opened with prayer, Rev. F. T. McFaden, of the Presbyterian Church, invoking divine blessing.

The Committee for Fish and Game reported favorably the House bill in relation to lease of oyster grounds, with anneadments thereto, and the bill was placed on the calendar.

Several bills were reported from the Committee on Finance and Banks and two were communicated from the House Senate bill 480, in relation to working the roads of Giles county, was taken up out of its order and passed. Eight new bills were introduced and referred to commit-

The House.

The House.

Speaker Ryan and Clerk Williams, both being still siek, Mr. Cardwell called the House to order at 11 o'clock and Mr. Georgo Lindsay was present as acting clerk. Mr. Duke moved to make his pure o'l bill a special order for next Wednesday at 12:39 o'clock. Mr. Hunley, of Mathews, chairman of the General Laws Committee, opposed this motion, and said the bill had been by unanimous vote reported adversely. He said it had develoed before the committee that the result of the passage of the bill would make oil higher, and the quality would not be improved.

Mr. Duke, in replying, declared bis make oil higher, and the quality would not be improved.

Mr. Duke, in replying, declared his fight was for the sefety of the lives of the women and children of the State. After considerable cross-firing between the patron and Mr. Hunley, the House, by a vote of 28 to 21, refused to make the bill a special order.

A number of bills were reported from committees, among them being that of Mr. Gunn to declare nine hours to be a day for State employes. The bill was reported from the General Laws Committee with amendments.

The bill of Mr. Cuton to collect birds and eggs for scientific purposes was rejected, and that of Mr. Anderson for the protection of Hondon's statue of Washington was passed—nyes, 17; noes, 1.

THE TORRENS BILL.

THE TORRENS BILL.

The special order, the Torrens system bill, coming up at 12:30 P. M., Mr. Moncure resumed his argument against the adoption of the measure. He declared that it was sought here to change the landmarks of the State, and to make it necessary for the institutior of an interminable chancery suit for every tract of land in the State. It meant the purchase of book cases and of piscen holes in which to stick these chancery papers, and it meant much for the lawyers of the State. Mr. Moncure said he spoke in the interest of the great mass of land owners of the State, and he again asserted that the change proposed was a mischlevous one. THE TORRENS BILL.

mischlevous one.

MR. WITHERS ADVOCATES IT.

Mr. Moneure concluded his remarks amid applause, and was followed by Mr. Withers, who made a strong speech for the measure. He contended that the bill sought to bring order out of chaos, so far as the title to, real property was concerned, and he undertook to show that the Torrens method was badly needed in the State.

The speech of Mr. Withers caught the House from the start, and it was an exceptionally clear and strong statement of the merius of the bill. Mr. Withers was asked a number of questions by those opposed to the bill, and he answered them in a very quick and clear manner. He argued for the simplicity and ease with which lands could be manipulated under the proposed system, and spoke at some length of the alleged confusion existing as to the titles to the real property of the State under the present regime.

Mr. Wood asked a number of questions for information, and to'd Mr. Withers that he desired in mot explain so that he might you intelligently. The speaker created great laughter by replying to Mr. Wood.
